

* GLEN HAY FALCONER FOUNDATION WINTER 2008 NEWSLETTER ****

The Foundation continued to blossom in 2007. We sent two more great brewers to beer school in Chicago in the fall. Since its inception, the Foundation has funded a total of seven scholarships. All this is made possible by the fun-filled events and inventive initiatives that beer lovers in the Pacific Northwest eagerly await.

The Sasquatch Brew Fest entered its fifth year, attracting thousands of repeat revelers as well as hordes of new inductees. The Sasquatch BrewAm entered its third year and has developed a solid core of annual faithful golfers and duffers. And the Sasquatch Legacy Project, which brings together the current brewing scholarship recipients to brew a specially crafted beer to fund future brewing scholarships, entered its second year.

2007 BREWING SCHOLARSHIPS

In co-sponsorship with the Siebel Institute, we offered two full-tuition scholarships along with travel stipends to the World Brewing Academy (WBA) brewing courses. From a deep and talented pool of applicants from throughout the Pacific Northwest, the Selection Committee chose Corey Blodgett of McMenamins Cornelius Pass Roadhouse (Hillsboro, OR) and Jacob Leonard of Walking Man Brewing (Stevenson, WA). Corey attended the WBA Concise Course in Brewing and Jacob attended the WBA Beer Production and Quality Control course.

Join us in thanking the Selection Committee members for their dedication and energy. We extend our sincere appreciation to all who applied and our congratulations to Corey and Jacob.

FIFTH ANNUAL SASQUATCH BREW FEST

On June 2nd, several thousand beer-thirsty revelers descended upon downtown Eugene, Oregon for the fifth annual Sasquatch Brew Fest. The Brew Fest boasted over 60 different beers, many specially brewed for the occasion, from nearly 50 craft breweries in Oregon, Washington, California, Alaska, and Hawaii. The crowds were also treated to live music throughout the day. As in prior years, the day of celebration was complete with a lively raffle and exciting silent auction.

The Sasquatch Brew Fest continued its tradition with an intimate brewers dinner the preceding evening and the Sasquatch Homebrewing Competition. The Homebrewing Competition was organized and produced by the Cascade Brewers Society where Glen continued as a dedicated member even as a professional brewer.

We are eternally grateful to the incredibly dedicated Steering Committee and extend our thanks and appreciation to the many event volunteers and silent auction donors who have made the Sasquatch Brew Fest a lasting and much-anticipated event in the greater Eugene area and in the Pacific Northwest brewing community.

SASQUATCH LEGACY PROJECT

In February, the 2006 Foundation scholarship recipients, Chad Kennedy of Laurelwood Public House & Brewery and Ben Millstein of Kodiak Island Brewing Company, developed and brewed a tasty imperial steam beer. The beer was available at select establishments in Oregon and Washington. Proceeds from all facets of the project were donated to the Foundation to support future brewing scholarships.

The Sasquatch Legacy Project is the brainchild of Bob Craig of Walking Man Brewing, who hosted the brewing and organized and arranged all aspects from donated ingredients to distribution. We extend a heartfelt thanks to Bob and Walking Man Brewing and to everyone involved in the project. And thanks to each of you who purchased a pint or two of this tasty brew.

THIRD ANNUAL SASQUATCH BREWAM

On July 27th, celebrity brewers and their adoring fans paired up to tee off at the McMenamins Edgefield Pub Course just outside of Portland, Oregon for the third annual Sasquatch BrewAm golf tournament. Everyone was treated to a fun morning in the beautiful Oregon sunshine, plenty of great craft beer, and fun beer and golf games along the course.

Thanks to all the hole sponsors, participating brewers, golfers, and beer fans who made the day such a success. A special thank you goes out to Lisa Morrison, Mark Campbell, and Bob Brewer who joined forces with us to produce the BrewAm.

Portland was also the center for some great fundraisers in November, all conceived and mostly organized by Brian Butenschoen, Executive Director of the Oregon Brewers Guild. The Horse Brass Pub and the Green Dragon Bistro and Brewpub hosted events and Belmont Station hosted a silent auction of vintage beers all to support the Foundation's scholarship program.

WHAT IS IN STORE FOR 2008

In co-sponsorship with the Siebel Institute, the Foundation is once again offering two full-tuition brewing scholarships. One scholarship is to the "Concise Course in Brewing Technology." The second scholarship allows candidates to apply for one of three two-week modules from the "International Diploma in Brewing Technology Program." Applications are now being accepted. For information and details on how to apply, visit the Siebel Institute website at <http://www.siebelinstitute.com>.

Planning is already underway for the Sasquatch Brew Fest set for Saturday, June 7, 2008 in Eugene, Oregon. Check out www.sasquatchbrewfest.org for periodic updates. The Sasquatch BrewAm will be held at McMenamins Edgefield on Friday, July 25, 2008. Sign-up now if you like but we'll also keep you posted as the BrewAm approaches.

We are excited to announce the addition of a new scholarship slated for early 2009. Working in co-sponsorship with the American Brewers Guild (ABG), the scholarship is to the ABG "Intensive Brewing Science & Engineering" course which is a 22-week program for those seeking a thorough understanding of the basic science, engineering, functions and goals of the modern micro or pub brewery. Look for a separate press release in the coming months with details on how to apply.

As always, thank you for your continuing interest, encouragement, and support.

Cheers to you!
